Here you will work during the Summer University: The Incubator at Bangkok University School of Entrepreneurship and Management (BUSEM)

WHAT IS BUSEM, AND WHY THIS SUMMER UNIVERSITY?

At Bangkok University School of Entrepreneurship and Management (BUSEM), we believe that thinking and acting entrepreneurially can be taught. In our fast-changing times, entrepreneurial thinking is critical to the long-term success of any organization. Our curriculum not only provides you with in-depth knowledge of key domains in entrepreneurial skills, but also equips you with a creative mindset and a holistic perspective to turn opportunities into high value business. In partnership with Babson College, BUSEM offers a specialized Master's Degree in Entrepreneurship.

Babson College in Wellesley, Massachusetts (USA), is the world's No. 1 in Entrepreneurship Education for 20 consecutive years, ranked by US News and World Report.

Active support for this project comes from Bangkok University, and the GEM Global Entrepreneurship Monitoring Consortium. Bangkok University, the Creative University, was founded in 1962 and is the oldest and biggest private university in Thailand. GEM is a global research project; BUSEM is the Research Team for Thai data.

Sure, not everybody plans to start an own business anytime soon, but any successful Manager in our times needs strongly developed entrepreneurial skills for a successful career in any field.

That is why we offer this 21-day Summer University on Entrepreneurship in Asia: See yourself how other cultures do things differently, get insights into different mentalities in Asia and look behind the touristic curtains, learn firsthand from successful entrepreneurs sharing their thought and action with you, and take a fresh look on literally every aspect of organizations.

Successful entrepreneurial thinking is global, rather than local. It needs the same skills in Asia as in Europe, in North America as in South America. What you get here in addition are Asian perspectives, approaches, ways of thinking, and ways of communication. That is why our Summer University is named 'Entrepreneurship in Asia'.

It is open to students of all fields and certainly not limited to business students. Whether you want to run an aid organization, a kindergarten, a hospital in Africa, or engage in women's education in Pakistan - in any project you will need entrepreneurial thinking skills to make it a long-lasting success.

Learn from the best, both seasoned professionals and researchers, and join us for this unique experience across the wildly different regions of Thailand!

VOICES ON BANGKOK UNIVERSITY, BUSEM, AND GEM

Dr. Mathana Santiwat
President, Bangkok University
(until 30 May 2015)

“Bangkok University is proud to share our vision of excellence in entrepreneurial development for advancement of knowledge and progression of social growth. BUSEM, our newest academic faculty, is a testament to the strategic commitment that our institution has made towards driving and affecting positive change around us. We have chosen to partner with Babson College in order to harness the world’s best practices in entrepreneurship education, and are greatly honoured to be in a unique position to deliver this expertise to our national community and nearby region.”

Dr. Uttama Savanayana
Senior Vice President, Bangkok University
Executive Director, BUSEM
From 1 June 2015: President, Bangkok University

“To be an entrepreneur, one needs to be equipped with an appropriate set of knowledge, for example, marketing, accounting, and finance, among others. Business students typically rely on such knowledge to do a business plan exercise. But to actually launch a new business venture, that is not quite sufficient. It is the dynamic entrepreneurial activity which leads to the creation of sound business ideas that must come first before a plan can be formulated. Our programs focus on this critical aspect of business creation. This means at BUSEM we begin with the individuals, the would-be entrepreneurs, rather than the business. Our goal is to help our students gain the mindset, the skills, and the abilities required of the entrepreneurial process which will then allow them to effectively leverage the knowledge to build and grow successful businesses.”

Dr. Pichit Akrathit
Executive Director BUSEM

“BUSEM offers you the opportunity to Learn from top-class faculty and gain real world experience. The applied learning at BUSEM is the type that is integral to people who succeed. While BUSEM covers theory, the focus is on doing. It takes a certain courage, tenacity, creative problem solving, and vision to actually launch a venture. BUSEM inspires and instills those qualities in its students.”

Dr. Wutnipong Warakraisawad
Director of Administration, BUSEM

“BUSEM ... fosters collaboration and support that will make you a stronger, more creative entrepreneur. Regardless of what you are looking to do at BUSEM, there is always someone there willing to help.”

Dr. Koson Sapprasert Ulrike Guelich
Director of Research Research Fellow
Global Entrepreneurship Montitor (GEM),
Research Project, BUSEM

“The components for the ecosystem are seamlessly integrated during the modules. However, the research ties all components together, and it is the GEM activity that provides the most insightful and current information to the market trends, socio- and demographic that can be readily specified by any member of the BUSEM community for use. Not only does this keep our curricula up-to-date for the most relevant information and changes, but data collected from the research can also be applied directly to your business venture for any reason whatsoever.”

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This 48-hour summer course provides an intensive academic program to develop entrepreneurial thinking skills, and is a unique programme designed specifically to expose students to cross cultural differences and how they affect many aspects of life in different working environments.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

On completion of this subject students should be able:

- Ⓐ To identify cross-cultural differences and their impact on individual behavior and business activities.
- Ⓑ To network globally while being culturally sensitive.
- Ⓒ To conduct self-adjusting intercultural communication and behavior.

- Ⓓ To apply in-depth knowledge of the key domains in entrepreneurial skills.
- Ⓔ To act consciously in a culture of avoidance, as well as in Asian high-context cultures.
- Ⓕ To identify opportunities that empower young people to create positive change.
- Ⓖ To improve their understanding of history, culture and religion, and their impact on the everyday lives of people, and on the tracking and tracing of business.
- Ⓗ To avoid cross-cultural traps that often burden cordial relations and business ties.
- Ⓘ To understand the importance of different concepts when West meets East.
- Ⓝ To get access to the economic situation in Asia and to be aware of the world's shifting economic center .
- Ⓚ To develop leadership skills either as an entrepreneur or as an entrepreneurially thinking employee.

TEACHING METHODS

The lecture/discussion method will be used. Students may wish to read the recommended text books available in our library prior to class. The instructor may add supplementary material and will encourage class discussions. Some instructors will require students to make their own notes. Soft copy of teaching notes will be made available where appropriate. Field trips and practical exercises will increase understanding and the development of applicable knowledge.

ASSESSMENT

Class participation and attendance count for 20 percent of the grade, the Final Examination for 80 percent.

PARTICIPATION

It is expected that students will not only participate in class by discussing, showing his/her own ideas and opinions relating to the topics, but also actively engage in field trips and off-campus activities. Also, students are required to participate in in-class case studies. Class discussion and in-class case activities will be noted and reflected in final course grades.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

A minimum attendance of 80 percent is required to pass the course. Students are expected to attend all classes, arrive on time, and remain for the full class session unless prior arrangements are made with the instructor. Students who arrive late, leave early, or have excessive absences will be affected by the attendance grade. Students who are absent without excuse (i.e., doctor's note) for more than 3 times will be dismissed from the subject.

FINAL EXAMINATION

The final examination of this course take the form of an Individual Progress Report. In detail, the student will discuss lessons learned and understanding gained during the program against the background of the individual expectations as expressed in the Motivation Letter that is part of the Application to this program.

GRADING SYSTEM

The following grading scale is used for all graduate academic courses:

ACADEMIC PROGRAM SESSIONS

MODULE A CROSS-CULTURAL COMMUNICATION

SESSION 1 The Asian Way of Thinking and the Underlying Value Systems (3 hours)

This session attempts to explore Asian religions; concept of self, others and the collective group; roles and status; and family dynamics in order to understand how Asian culture differs from that of the West, particularly along cultural dimensions and value orientations. The lectures give an understanding of the Asian way of thinking and the underlying value system. They also discuss the impact of the cultural particularities on the local business practices. Many real-life examples and case studies are given. The lectures are very interactive and include role playing and games.

MODULE A CROSS-CULTURAL COMMUNICATION

SESSION 2 Eastern versus Western Communication and Negotiation Style (3 hours)

Topics of this lecture include managing cultural differences, negotiating across cultures, working with multi-cultural teams, and the challenges of managing global careers. Central to this session are analyses of international business case studies with an emphasis on the Asian-Western cultural differences and misunderstandings and the ways to overcome them.

MODULE A CROSS-CULTURAL COMMUNICATION

SESSION 3 Communication Praxis: Asian Faces at Various Locations in Bangkok (6 hours)

Entrepreneurial journey to sites of concealment in order to practice communication with entrepreneurs in various cultural settings, such as Arab, Chinese, Indian, Japanese and Thai in the respective quarters in Bangkok.

MODULE (A) CROSS-CULTURAL COMMUNICATION

SESSION (4) Entrepreneurial Ethics and Social Responsibility (3 hours)

Corporate Social Responsibility and Corporate Good Governance are one of a coin, reality and its challenges are the other side. In this session, students learn from in-depth experiences on ethical behavior and ethical dilemma in a global organization in different countries and cultures.

MODULE (B) CREATING ENTREPRENEURIAL MINDSETS

SESSION (1) Legal Issues for Entrepreneurs: Challenges and Opportunities (3 hours)

This session covers the four most frequently asked questions by foreign business people on Thai business law. It also covers issues related to answering these questions.

MODULE (B) CREATING ENTREPRENEURIAL MINDSETS

SESSION (2) The Buddhist Approach to Entrepreneurship and Management (3 hours)

Different cultures do things differently. Learn from a revered Thai monk how Buddhist teachings deal with entrepreneurship and management, and get deep insights into the different thinking of other cultures.

MODULE (B) CREATING ENTREPRENEURIAL MINDSETS

SESSION (3) Cultural Influences on Entrepreneurial Leadership (3 hours)

What is entrepreneurial leadership today? How has leadership changed in the globalized world with an increasingly educated and affluent population in Asia? How do the social needs change the perception and connection with leaders? How do you recognize good leadership, and what makes good leaders? Are there special skills required for leadership in politics, business or society? These and other questions will be discussed during the class in an attempt to understand cultural influences on leadership.

MODULE (B) CREATING ENTREPRENEURIAL MINDSETS

SESSION (4) GEM Global Entrepreneurship Monitor: Comparison of Entrepreneurial aspirations and activities: Gender equality and networking (3 hours)

The Global Entrepreneurship Monitor (GEM) project is an annual assessment of the entrepreneurial activity, aspirations and attitudes of individuals across a wide range of countries. In this module, participants compare the results of Thailand and other Asian countries to the results of their home countries.

MODULE (C) MEET ENTREPRENEURS IN THOUGHT & ACTION

SESSION (1) Success Stories of Non-Asian Entrepreneurs in Asia (3 hours)

This session tells the stories of Western entrepreneurs who successfully manage businesses in Thailand or other Asian countries. Students will learn about the main challenges a Western entrepreneur has to face in Asia and how to overcome those difficulties. To round up the session the students will also get to know some famous and successful Asian.

MODULE C MEET ENTREPRENEURS IN THOUGHT & ACTION

SESSION 2 Six Company Visits: Meet the Entrepreneur (18 hours)

A 'Meet the Entrepreneur' session is a face-to-face meeting with a successful entrepreneur or a representative of the proprietor owner, explaining concept, strategy, and lessons learned. It usually begins with a company visit and ends with an opportunity to ask and discuss on the following topics.

- 2.1 Marketing and Sales in Asia
- 2.2 Media Attention and Public Image of the Entrepreneur
- 2.3 Hospitality and Tourism
- 2.4 Energy Drinks
- 2.5 Creative Bangkok
- 2.6 Food & Beverages

NON-ACADEMIC PROGRAM

The non-academic program in this Summer University augments the understanding gained and skills developed in the academic part by adding hands-on experiences and activities in direct contact with different cultures.

This does not only include one-to-one communication across cultures. It also aims at activities and observations of the many aspects of how things can be done differently, thus widening your perspective and adding some fresh and new views on how you can think and act beyond the limitations of your own culture.

In chronological order, we want to give you an overview of why some elements became integral part of this unique Summer University program.

Pla Tod Sam Rod - a tasty Thai dish

① Introduction to Thai Food (10-12 August 2015)

During the first three evenings, we will invite you to different Thai restaurants and eateries in order to make you familiar with Thai dishes. Nothing is more frustrating than standing hungry in front of a food stall but not knowing whether you could eat what you see there. You will taste Central, Northern and Southern Thai dishes and learn how to pronounce the names of those dishes you like best. Certainly, we will also introduce you to Isaan Food, the dishes from the Northeast of Thailand.

Street decoration in Bangkok at HM the Queen's Birthday

② Culture Tour Bangkok (12 August 2015)

On 12 August is H.M. The Queen's Birthday, also called Mother's Day in Thailand. Bangkok will be full of events celebrating the birthday of the 'Mother of the Nation', which gives you insights to official Thai culture. Besides, you will visit the Royal Palace and Wat Pho with the Emerald Buddha, you will discover humorous-naïve Buddhist wall paintings, and experience different modes of transportation, such as a tuk-tuk ride, a canal boat taxi, and a Khlong Tour through the hidden canals of Bangkok, once called 'The Venice of the East'. Later, you will visit the famous Khaosan Road for dinner.

③ Take a Walk in Ayutthaya (13 August 2015)

On our way to visit one of the most famous Thai companies, we will take the opportunity to walk with you through the famous ruins of the old Thai capital Ayutthaya. That is an activity one should do in the morning to avoid the biggest heat of the day since there is little shadow - eventually, we are not that far from the equator here.

After the company visit, you will go back to Bangkok on a wooden boat along the shores of Chaophraya River, especially impressive when darkness falls.

Chiang Mai Night Market

④ Chiang Mai Tour (16 to 18 August 2015)

Chiang Mai is on top of the wish list of almost every foreign visitor to Thailand, and so is Chiang Mai's Sunday Market. We fly to Chiang Mai in the morning, thus having time for a guided City Tour in the afternoon, before ending the day on the Sunday Market when the heat of the day is gone. The next day, you will get in touch with elephants big and small, and enjoy the most famous attraction that Northern Thailand has to offer: River Rafting.

Cheerleader training at Bangkok University

⑤ Cheerleading, Aerobic, Tai Chi, and Karaoke (all optional)

Acrobatic Cheerleading is a widely enjoyed sport among Thai students (Bangkok University's team is a World Champion in the sport). Every late afternoon, students exercise in front of the BUSEM building. Why don't you join in to learn some basics and get in touch with Thai students?

Aerobic is the right thing after many hours sitting on a chair. In front of Tesco Lotus Hypermarkets there is an Aerobic event for the public with music and a professional Trainer. Joining in is free, and it sure is fun!

Tai Chi, the old Chinese art of shadow boxing, is practiced at several locations in early morning hours. One of the most famous locations is quite close to our campus and your hotel. Get up an hour earlier and see for yourself, or do it as well.

Karaoke meanwhile is as prominent in Europe as it is for decades now in Asia. If you wish to sing your soul out of your body, just let us know. The next karaoke bar is never far away in Thailand.

Bangkok, Route 66 Club

⑥ Bangkok by Night (22 August 2015)

Clubbing in Bangkok is world-famous. You will start with a drink on a roof-top bar, look through some venues, and likely end up in Route 66 in the RCA complex. You will never forget that club tour, we promise.

Ko Samet

⑦ Trip to Ko Samet (23-25 August 2015)

Ko Samet is a small island of stunningly beautiful beaches. In the evening, restaurants and food stalls put their tables to the beach where you can enjoy fresh fish, various meats, and fresh vegetables from the grill. After dinner, enjoy the famous Fire Show presented by local staff until a real Thai beach disco opens.

You can opt for some tanning sessions (take a good high-factor sun protection all the time!), enjoy a Thai Massage, rent a boat for a tour around the island, ride the banana or a jet-ski (all at your own expense). In this fine and white sand, playing beach ball or beach volleyball is sheer fun for those who need some tougher action.

Pattaya at night

⑧ Pattaya Night (25 August 2015)

With Ko Samet being only an hour away from Pattaya, we take the opportunity to visit a major hotel in Pattaya in the afternoon and enjoy the hotel's signature restaurant for a festive dinner afterwards. Later that evening, you may join us for a tour through the famous (infamous) Pattaya nightlife to allow for some first-hand impressions.

Centralworld, Bangkok

⑧ Bangkok Shopping (28 August 2015)

Our experience in organizing Summer Universities taught us, that our participants want some free time for shopping at the end of the program. Well, the conditions are great: We are in Bangkok, and there we have some of the best shopping centers in Asia. Enjoy!

Chaophraya River, Bangkok

⑨ Valediction Dinner (28 August 2015)

The closing event for this Summer University comes with a great Dinner Buffet in a setting that you won't forget easily. It serves also as an opportunity to chat with your teachers again who are certainly invited to join this event.
