

COURSE DESCRIPTION (Group C)

Course code	Course group	Volume in ECTS credits	Course valid from	Course valid to	Reg. No.
TPV3004	C	4	2016-06-01	2019-06-01

Course type (compulsory or optional)	Optional
Course level (study cycle)	Bachelor
Semester the course is delivered	Autumn
Study form (face-to-face or distant)	Face-to-face

Course title in Lithuanian

Religija ir politika

Course title in English

Religion and Politics

Short course annotation in Lithuanian (up to 500 characters)

Šio kurso tikslas remiantis socialinių mokslų perspektyva išanalizuoti religijos ir politikos santykių šiuolaikinėje visuomenėje. Kurso metu studentai susipažins su religijos teorijomis, bažnyčios ir valstybės santykių modeliais, analizuos realų religijos vaidmenį šiuolaikinėje visuomenėje, remdamiesi įvairių tyrimų duomenimis, atliks bažnyčios ir valstybės santykių modelių palyginimą įvairiose valstybėse.

Short course annotation in English (up to 500 characters)

The aim of this course is to analyze the relations between religion and politics in contemporary society. Students will be introduced with theories of religion, models of church-state relations, will analyze the role of religion in contemporary society according to the empirical data from various surveys and researches.

Prerequisites for entering the course

-

Course aim

To analyse and interpret with the help of social theories the relations of religion and politics in contemporary societies.

Links between study programme outcomes, course outcomes and criteria of learning achievement evaluation

Study programme outcomes	Course outcomes	Criteria of learning achievement evaluation
To prepare high qualification political science bachelor studies graduates, professional analytics, who are able to explain, analyze, compare and evaluate political, economic and social processes within developing world states, to explain and evaluate tendencies and strategies of	To assess critically interrelations between political agents and religious organizations within political systems of developing countries.	Graduates are able to assess critically interrelations between political agents and religious organizations within political systems of developing countries.
	To initiate, prepare and realize various projects of analysis of relations between religion and politics.	Graduates are able to initiate, prepare and realize various projects of relations between religion and politics.

international support for developing countries, to accomplish independently research, to prepare and pursue practical and applied projects.
	To apply theoretical perspectives and methodological tools for the analysis of relations between politics and religion.	Graduates are able to apply theoretical perspectives and methodological tools for the analysis of relations between politics and religion.

Link between course outcomes and content

Course outcomes	Content (topics)
To assess critically interrelations between political agents and religious organizations within political systems of developing countries.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Religion in contemporary society. 2. Secularization and secularism. 3. Religious fundamentalism. 4. Religious pluralism. 5. Religion and globalization. 6. Religion and nationalism. 7. Diversity of models of Religion and State relations. 8. World religions and politics: Hinduism, Buddhism, Christianity, Islam. 9. Religion and human rights. Freedom of religion. 10. Religion, peace and conflict preventing. 11. Religion and international development. 12. Religious terrorism.
To initiate, prepare and realize various projects of analysis of relations between religion and politics.
To apply theoretical perspectives and methodological tools for the analysis of relations between politics and religion.

Study (teaching and learning) methods

Teaching methods: information provision, discussions, consultations, and analysis of empirical examples.

Learning methods: presentations / debates, writing of paper, work with literature and sources.

Methods of learning achievement assessment

Test with open and closed questions, evaluation of presentations and debates, reading of papers.

Distribution of workload for students (contact and independent work hours)

Lectures – 30, work in groups – 15, homework – 40, independent work – 35 hours. Total – 120 hours.

Structure of cumulative score and value of its constituent parts

Midterm exam - 20 % of final grade; homework (essay) – 30 % of final grade; exam – 50 % of final grade. Total – 100 %.

Recommended reference materials

No.	Publication year	Authors of publication and title	Publishing house	Number of copies in
				University library	Self-study rooms	Other libraries
Basic materials
1.	2011 [2004]	Norris, P., Inglehart, R. Sacred and Secular: Religion and Politics Worldwide.	Cambridge UP	1	1	1 (Lithuanian National Library)
2.	2003	Jurgensmeyer, M. Terror in the Mind of God. The Global Rise of Religious Violence.	University of California Press	1
3.	2012	Rowe, P.S. Religion and Global Politics	Oxford UP		1
4.	2008	Fox, J. A World Survey of Religion and the State.	Cambridge UP	1
5.	2009	Kuru, A. T. Secularism and State Policies Toward Religion.	Cambridge UP	1
6.	2009	Routledge Companion to Religion and Politics. Ed. J. Haynes.	Routledge	1	1	1 (Vilnius University Library)
Supplementary materials
7.	2010	Religion and politics in Europe, the Middle East and North America. Ed. J. Haynes.	Routledge
8.	2015	Grzymała-Busse, A. Nations Under God. How Churches Use Moral Authority to Influence Policy.	Princeton University Press

Course programme designed by

Prof. M. Ališauskienė, Department of Political Science, VMU