CERTAIN ASPECTS OF ENGLISH GRAMMAR (B1)

This course covers the most common grammar topics that A2+, B1 or B1+ level students might have difficulties with. The course will be aimed at participating students' needs that will be discussed during the first lecture. However, some of the topics that we expect to cover are: expressions of quantity, relative clauses, infinitives and -ing forms, modals, articles and prepositions. Please note that separate tenses will not be taught during this course. The course will take place on MS Teams.

ENGLISH FOR COMMUNICATION (A2)

The course is for people who have basic knowledge of English and wish to study further. In A2 lessons, we are going to focus on communication, pronunciation, listening and understanding. Required grammar and vocabulary will also be introduced. The course will be a good opportunity to practice English in realistic situations related to working at university. The course will take place on MS Teams.

IMPROVE YOUR PRONUNCIATION (B1-B2)

Have you ever felt frustrated because you don't know how to pronounce words? Are there any sounds that you are afraid to pronounce because you feel a lack of confidence? Have you ever had to repeat yourself because your listener didn't understand what you had just said? Without clear pronunciation skills your message may get lost or confused. In this course, we will try to identify weak points of your pronunciation. We are going to find a way to improve your pronunciation and, most importantly, we will build your confidence for a successful road to fluency.

GRAMMAR FOR ACADEMIC WRITING (B2)

The course aims at introducing learners of English to various grammatical features of academic (scientific) texts. During the course, participants familiarize themselves with different types of clauses and sentences, learn to report and restate other people's words, study and use personal and impersonal structures, and practice expressing various relationships (reason, result, purpose, etc.) between ideas. The course is practice-oriented and it is intended primarily for upper intermediate learners of English.

BOOST YOUR SPEAKING SKILLS (B1)

Do you want to master your English and speak with more confidence? Would you like to boost your communication and build your vocabulary? Do you want to improve your listening skills and accelerate your knowledge of English grammar? Yes! This course is for you!
