Resilient Cities: Connecting Wellbeing, Infrastructure & Citizens

Speakers

Jurga Bučaitė-Vilkė is an Associate Professor at the Department of Sociology, Faculty of Social Sciences, Vytautas Magnus University (Lithuania). Her research focuses on participatory democracy, local governance, local social welfare policies, and urban transformations. She has been involved in several research projects on local governance, community participation and territorial welfare policies. She is currently Head of the Department of Sociology (since 2020) and Director of the Kavolis Transdisciplinary Research Institute in Social Sciences and Humanities (since 2022).

Ed Carroll (BD, MA, PhD) (b. 1960, Dublin, IE) works collaboratively with others as an artist, researcher, and writer. One characteristic of the work he is attracted to is its role in advancing civil society, specifically the cultural rights of communities. He has co-created cultural heritage and community culture in Europe. Skills include research, arts and culture project management, visioning, group facilitation, evaluation, curating, and social sculpture.
